Take a look at the stuff out of which we make these trousers and you'll be greatly surprised at the amount of goodness. You would say the regular Mertz and Mertz value is $5.00. Elsewhere you would expect to pay $7.00. These goods are nice enough for any occasion.

The cutaway coat and vest goods is English diagonal guaranteed. Will not fade or crock. We'll make the garments up in good style and unexcelled workmanship. We've seen goods no better in quality advertised at $18 as a bargain. We remember the day when we used to ask and get $25 for a diagonal cloth no better. Wonderful changes have taken place since then.

Suit will cost $12.13. Great value.

The wonderful fascination and interest which Mrs. Cleveland has always verted in the feminine mind and heart was never New York branch of the association also gave Mr. Shepherd a similar set of resolu-tions for his services on the same bill. more manifest than in watching hundreds of her guests, who after being presented lingered where they could face her, or at least catch a glimpse now and then of her movements. There are few women who would have looked as serenely handsome in a simple house dress, with the strong south light in the background, and hundreds of eager eyes watching the test. For the greater number there may have been gorgeous floral decorations, dainties, good to greater number there may have been gorgeous floral decorations, dainties, good to eat and good to even admire, tuneful music in the corridor, and the presence of interesting young ladies as assistants, but these incidental features were rather trifling in comparison with the main fact that will remain longest in their memories—that Mrs. Cleveland looked quite as young and quite as beautiful as ever, and that the simple cordiality of manner which has been her greatest charm remains the same. Col. Wilson presented each lady to Mrs. Cleveland. The attaches of the house and the policemen who shared with Col. Wilson and Lieut. Gilmore the distinction of being the only members of their sex present had the easiest duty of the season. All came and went as they pleased, nobody appeared to be in the way of anybody else, and everything ran along with such perfect smoothness that it only went to prove everything ran along with such per-fect smoothness that it only went to prove once again that the gentle sex is not mis-named. Mrs. Cleveland will hold a public reception Saturday. February 6, 3 to 5. Mrs. Richardson Clover entertained about fifty small children Saturday afternoon, to celebrate the birthday of her year-old baby daughter Beatrice. The beautiful child, in the arms of her nurse, was a bright and interested observer of the frolics of her sister Dora's friends. After a Punch and Judy show and a sleight-of-hand perform-ance, the children sat about the large table in the dining room to enjoy a feast. Baby Beatrice cut her birthday cake, which con-tained a prize in every slice. Later the con-tents of a grabbag sent the happy young-sters home laden with pretty gifts.

"A regulation of the foreign office, intro duced by Prince Bismarck, prohibits the marriage of members of the diplomatic staff to aliens. They can marry,, but marriage to an alien involves resignation or discharge from the service. Bismarck, who made the regulation for a particular case, could get over it when he wanted to. Caprivi, in his honest way, made no exceptions. Prince Hohenlohe has not actually rescinded the rule, but interprets it liberally, so that Baron Ketteler is at last enabled to marry."

Dr. McKim Preaches About the Beauty

Rev. Dr. McKim preached an eloques sermon yesterday morning at the Church of the Epiphany, in which he spoke a length of the importance to the entire Christian world of the arbitration treaty which is now before the Senate. In his discourse, Dr. McKim said:

"There are those who ridicule as Utopia the expectation that the time can ever come when nation shall not lift up sword against nation. They scorn as dreamer harbinger of an era of peace upon earth But we may remind them that the greates reforms in the history of mankind have reforms in the history of mankind bave been laughed at as impracticable and vis-lonary when first proposed. Perhaps the world is most deeply in lebt si to the dreamers of dreams, who have had faith enough and hope enough to seek to make their dreams realities.
